NEWS & VIEWS REQUIRED

The signalling and telecommunications industry world-wide currently has a high demand for experienced engineers to work on many projects around the world. Are you looking to change roles, companies or even countries?

The many differing roles that now exist in the signalling and telecommunications industry, need now to be highlighted and shared with the membership, to identify their individual importance to the differing projects or infrastructure owners. As a member, are you prepared to tell us what you do and how you do it?

We are always on the lookout for any articles about cutting edge technology and the various technical solutions from around the world, but it is most important that we understand the membership and their involvement. So we want to hear from you, however large or small the information that you have may be!

The editorial team are continually interested and keen to hear and learn from the world-wide membership. This being the case, please send your articles, comments and thoughts direct to irseneeds@irse.org.

Please remember that language is no barrier to our team. We can usually translate most languages. There is just one thing though. When you send an article for potential publication, please DO NOT embed your pictures within it. Please send all your pictures as individual JPEG files separate to your article, which should be in a Word file.

The editorial team always look forward to receiving your feedback and comments. Thanks for your continued support, but please remember that this is your magazine for your Institution. Make your balanced contribution today.
